OPPOSE CANAL OUTLAY

State Grange and Farmers' Congress Enter Protest.

Petition Introduced into Senate and Assembly Objecting to the Manner in Which the Legislation is Proposed and Demanding a Public Hearing Before the Canal Committee.

ALBANY, April 9.—A protest against the proposed expenditure of $20,000,000 for canal improvement work was submitted last night to the senate and assembly. It was signed by Elliot B. Norris, master of the New York State Grange.

"The undersigned, representing important organizations of the farmers and taxpayers of the state, respectfully remonstrate against the passage of the proposed bill for the expenditure of $20,000,000 in the enlargement of the canals, without first affording an adequate and proper hearing to those who believe that such action will be unwise and detrimental to the interests of the state and especially to its agricultural interests."

"We respectfully represent that during the last three years the advocates of canal enlargement have practically used the official power of the state to create public sentiment in favor of the expenditure. The commission appointed by Governor Roosevelt, after expending several thousand dollars, taken from the treasury, brought in a report consisting exclusively of arguments upon that side, which we regret to be compelled to say were based upon statements and figures which a careful examination shows to be absolutely false."

The tables contained in that report are so erroneous that they are entirely unreliable, and the conclusion based upon them is misleading and untrue. The last legislature appropriated $200,000 for a continuance of the same process. The advocates of canal enlargement have had the ear of the state government and their expenses have been paid out of the state treasury. On the other hand there is a very large and respectable body of citizens who believe that further money spent upon the canals will be utterly wasted, and who have had no hearing at all. We claim that these parties, which we in part represent, are entitled to be heard."

"We further call your attention to the unjust, and, as we believe, illegal manner in which this bill has been brought before your honorable body. The act of last year authorizing further surveys directed the state engineer to report the result of his action to the governor before Jan. 1. The governor was directed to transmit the same to the legislature on or before Jan. 15. The purpose of these conditions was evidently to afford all parties full knowledge of the conclusions reached and opportunity for full and fair discussion of the propositions based upon them. Instead of obeying this mandate the final report of the state engineer was not made until Feb. 20 and was not transmitted till March 15. The bill itself was introduced on Thursday last. It is printed and on file for the first time today."

"We respectfully submit that this is unprecedented in the history of legislation; that a subject more important and carrying a larger sum of money than any other that has ever been submitted to the legislature should be thus introduced in the last days of the session in its final stage, and to force it to a vote without fair and ample discussion will be an act of such injustice that we hereby enter our most earnest and emphatic protest against it."

"We, therefore, respectfully ask the honorable senate, to make and order as shall refer this bill to a committee with directions to grant a sufficient hearing to all parties interested in and affected by it. And we respectfully ask the honorable assembly, to take such notice of the conditions hereinbefore named as will assure to us an ample and unrestricted hearing before the committee to which it has already been referred."

The petition was presented to the senate by Senator Ambler. Senator Davis objected to the reading, but upon advice of Leader Ellsworth withdrew his objection.

PICTURE MYSTERY SOLVED

Adam Worth Stole the Gainsborough Portrait, but Cannot Be Proven. NEW YORK, April 8.—The Herald says: "Mystery no longer envelops the identity of the man who stole the Gainsborough portrait of the Duchess of Devonshire from the art rooms of William Agnew & Sons in London. The police say the man who took the picture is Adam Worth. Time, however, has outlawed the crime, and though Worth is well known to Scotland Yard authorities and to the police of this country, he has no fear of prosecution."

"After having the famous painting under his control for 25 years, lacking two months, Adam Worth, on March 26 of this year returned it to C. Morland Agnew. The transfer was made in the Auditorium hotel in Chicago, the details being arranged by the two principals who dealt through William Pinkerton and Pat Sheedy, a gambler."

Worth is said to be a younger son of a family whose name has been respected and honored in England for generations."

MANIACS ATE MATES.

Horrible Tale of Cannibalism by Shipwrecked Mariners.

Only Two of Fifteen Survived—Rest Suicided or Were Killed by Their Insane Companions and Their Bodies Used For Food—Survivors Had Drifted 42 Days When Rescued.

LONDON, April 8.—The Singapore correspondent of The Daily Express wires a ghastly story of cannibalism at sea, brought to Singapore by two survivors of the Nova Scotia bark Angora, wrecked six days sail from Manila, Oct. 23 last. The correspondent says: "The survivors, Johnsen, a Swede, and Marticoara, a Spaniard, assert that the Angora struck a reef. Two rats were built. The smaller, bearing five men, disappeared; the other, with 12 men, drifted for 46 days. The sailors ate barnacles and sea weeds and finally their boots. On the 25th day two became insane and killed themselves. On the 26th a Frenchman killed the mate with an ax, drank his blood and tried to eat his brains but was prevented by the others. Next day the Frenchman was killed while attempting to murder the captain. The survivors, all of whom were now insane, ate the Frenchman's body. Cannibalism continued until only Johnsen and Marticoara remained. On the 42nd day the raft stranded on Sulu or Flat Island, in the Natuna group, northwest of Borneo. Johnsen and Marticoara were awfully emaciated. Friendly Malays sent them by junk to Singapore."

WOULDN'T IN COURT DR. FALK

Grand Jury Refuses to Issue a Complaint of Assault on Mrs. Falk.

WILKES-BARRE, April 8.—The grand jury ignored the case of Dr. Harry L. Falk, who was charged by Samuel Salsburg with criminal assault upon Mrs. Salsburg. At the time of the discovery of the alleged assault Salsburg shot Falk and he is now at his home wounded seriously. The case was heard by the grand jury and it decided there was not enough evidence to prove an assault. Beside a counter suit for $10,000 damages brought by Falk against Salsburg he had him arrested for attempted murder and Salsburg was compelled to give $5,000 bail.

Falk's wound is so severe that the physician will not allow him to see anyone but his immediate family, and they fear he will lose his arm. He is unable to make a statement, but his attorney, W. H. Hines, gave his client's side of the story. He said that on last Monday night Mrs. Salsburg telephoned for Dr. Falk to call to perform an operation. Falk could not go then. The next morning at 10 o'clock Mrs. Salsburg sent word for the doctor and soon afterward he arrived at the house, and went to Mrs. Salsburg's room. A few minutes later Salsburg burst in inflamed with anger, and cried: "What are you doing here?" "You ought to know," said Dr. Falk, "you sent for me."

"Get out or I'll shoot you," cried Salsburg. Falk then picked up his hat and was going down the stairs when Salsburg rushed from the room behind him and fired. Salsburg and his attorney refuse to make any statement and Mrs. Salsburg, who is still with her parents, refuses to be seen.

MURDERER JAILED.

Man Who Killed Mother and Brother Had Roamed Mountains For a Week. SUNBURY, Pa., April 8.—Remorseful, haggard and worn, John Gulick, who last Tuesday murdered his mother and brother at their home near this city, was lodged in jail here yesterday. He was discovered in the spring house on the Gulick farm. In this place he secured his first shelter since committing the crime. He said he was tired and had come back home intending to give himself up.

Since the day of the crime he had roamed through the mountains during the day and at night went to nearby towns and begged for food from lack doors. He positively refused to speak about the crime, merely saying that he was very sorry. To Chief of Police Metter he stated that he witnessed the funeral of his victims from a nearby hill. When searched the revolver with which he committed the crime was found in his coat pocket.

It is an eight-mill plant and employs about 500 men, the daily capacity being from 1,000 to 1,200 boxes.

All the independent tin plate plants have been in continuous operation since the new scale went into effect on July 1. One concern has its entire production for the year sold. Contrary to expectation the combination has decided to continue present prices for the third quarter of the year. Orders for early delivery, however, command a premium of 20 cents a box.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Bradstreet's Report on Conditions of Trade Throughout the Country.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Bradstreet's review of trade says: "Speculative activity, seeking expression in the markets for securities, cereals, raw cotton and some hog products, has rather tended to obscure interest in general distributive trade, which has, however, been temporarily distorted, in retail lines at least, by widespread unfavorable weather conditions. While the general tendency of this speculation has been bullish, a marked exception was that furnished by bearish movements in wheat and corn, which have lowered the level of these products for the time being. The general census is that retail Eastern trade has been to some extent curtailed by rains in the cities and by bad roads in the country districts, but above noted, these are really only temporary phases and the general outlook for crops and as to spring trade as a whole, is in a high degree optimistic."

The world's stock of wheat decreased about twice as much in March as in February but the decline was only 3,420,000 bushels because the decline of 3,850,000 bushels was nearly met by a gain of 4,700,000 bushels in Europe and the larger part of the net reduction was counteracted by Australian stocks, which fell off 2,700,000 bushels. The total world's stock, as reported by telegraph and cable to Bradstreet's was 175,773,000 bushels on April 1, against 178,484,000 bushels on March 1, 175,885,000 bushels on April 1 a year ago and 134,703,000 bushels on April 1, 1890.

European stocks last Saturday were the largest since Dec. 1, 1898. American stocks are 5,960,000 bushels smaller than a year ago, but 20,000,000 bushels larger than April, 1899. Business failures for the week number 188, against 189 last week, 182 in this week a year ago, 190 in 1899, 220 in 1898 and 232 in 1897.

Failures for the first quarter of 1901 number 5,017, with liabilities of $31,048,840, and assets of $14,080,234. They were 12 per cent more numerous than a year ago and 8.5 per cent larger than in 1899, but were 14 per cent less than in 1898; were 25 per cent fewer than in 1897 and one-third less than in 1896. Liabilities were, however, the smallest reported in 14 years past, 18 per cent less than a year ago, one-half of 1 per cent less than in 1899, and about one-half those of 1896.

Wheat, including flour, shipments for the week aggregated 4,038,033 bushels, against 4,494,535 bushels last week, 3,830,563 bushels in the corresponding week of 1900, 3,384,800 bushels in 1899 and 3,778,720 bushels in 1898. Corn exports for the week aggregated 2,600,541 bushels, against 3,382,943 bushels last week, 4,341,591 bushels in this week a year ago, 3,734,054 bushels in 1899 and 3,557,000 bushels in 1898.
